

Mark and I were looking for a new home in University Park in the summer of 2007. We saw our home (unfinished) on Realtor.com and drove by the house to take a look at it. Other than the brick around the house, the construction was far from over. We went inside to take a look at the layout of the house and immediately fell in love with it. The floor plan is open with the kitchen and the den merging into one, which is great for entertaining. Mark has his own private study now that allows him to work from home more often. The quality of the construction is second to none. Attention to detail is evident throughout the house, from the wrought iron staircase, to the wood floors, to the crown molding, to the light fixtures, to the cabinetry, to the appliances, even down to the color of paint! We love everything about our house. The house is well insulated, so it is energy efficient. The backyard is big enough for a pool, which we put in after we purchased the home. Every step of the way from the purchase of the home to the completion of the builder's warranty issues was stress free. Chris Ogden and his team are easy to work with and readily available to answer questions. Mark and I will definitely recommend Ogden Custom Homes to our friends; and should we find ourselves in the marketplace for another home in the future, we will definitely consider another custom home from Chris Ogden. Thank you for building such a well-crafted custom home, Chris. We love it!
